Bridging Accountability: TCWG and Auditors in the New Governance Era Under SEHK and HKSAs

Organised by ProVITAE 普維財會人網 · portal.provitae.hk

- Friday, 18 Sep 2026
- 12:00 – 14:00 HKT
- Online Webinar
- HKD 150
- 2 CPD hours

SEMINAR INTRODUCTION

The Hong Kong Stock Exchange Corporate Governance Guide was released in April 2026. It outlines core director duties, board independence requirements such as LEAD Independent Non-Executive Director (INED), risk management, and diversity standards.

Meanwhile, the enforcement of the New Audit Package (Hong Kong Standards on Auditing — HKSAs 315, 240, and 570) by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (HKICPA), effective December 2026, is also on the horizon.

The professional landscape has shifted decisively from commercial courtesy to rigorous verification: HKSA 315 requires expanded risk assessment; HKSA 240 requires greater focus on fraud detection — especially in new business lines; and HKSA 570 requires enhanced going-concern evaluation.

As a result, the 2026/27 reporting cycle represents the most consequential overhaul of corporate governance and auditing in a generation.

This webinar will examine the critical intersection of board oversight, financial management, auditor scepticism, and regulatory expectations on the same occasion at the same time — equipping participants to navigate the new governance audit landscape with confidence, and providing an excellent platform for TCWG team members, internal and external audit teams to come together, align on expectations, and collaborate effectively. By engaging in the same dialogue, all parties can work in concert to elevate corporate governance standards and strengthen overall audit quality.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Auditors & Assurance Professionals
  To deepen their understanding of heightened scepticism and evolving regulatory expectations.
- Corporate Governance Practitioners (incl. INEDs)
  To explore how board oversight responsibilities are expanding under revised standards.
- CFOs & Finance Teams
  To prepare for intensified demands in documentation, internal controls, and cross-functional coordination.
- TCWG of Overseas Subsidiaries, JVs & Associates
  To align group-wide governance practices with parent-company obligations.
- Management Consultancy Professionals
  To acquire a basic understanding of a major paradigm shift in management structure and corporate governance landscape.
- University Professors, Lecturers & Students
  To get prepared for updating curricula, re-designing course structures with new mindsets and exploring emerging themes for further studies.

SPEAKERS

FACILITATOR

Mr. K C Cheng, FCA

Director, Poly Genius Consulting Limited
Master of Professional Accounting | MA in English for the Professions

K C Cheng is a seasoned accounting and audit professional who serves as an expert witness for liquidators, audit firms, and Public Interest Entities (PIEs). He has made significant contributions to the profession through the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (HKICPA), where he previously chaired and served on various examination paper committees and the Examinations Board.
